CHAPTER 1

Introduction

1.1 The purpose of this document

This Statement of Community Consultation (SoCC) document sets out Esso Petroleum Company, Limited's (Esso's) approach to consulting the people living in the vicinity of the proposed order limits for the Southampton to London pipeline, which we will be presenting at our second (statutory) consultation. It has been developed using our Commitment to Community Consultation, which accompanied our first (non-statutory) consultation. We have also considered the feedback we received about the consultation process and engagement activity from our first consultation.

This document explains the consultation being undertaken before the submission of our application for development consent. It covers:

- the consenting process;
- when the consultation is taking place;
- where the consultation is taking place;
- who we will consult;
- how we will consult;
- how we will provide information;
- how people can provide their feedback; and
- how Esso will process it.

This document has been prepared pursuant to section 47(1) of the Planning Act 2008 (the 2008 Act) and regulation 12 of The Infrastructure Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) Regulations 2017.

In addition to our obligations under section 47, section 42 of the 2008 Act clearly sets out how to consult with prescribed consultees, local authorities and persons with an interest in land. None of the section 42 consultees are excluded from any of the community consultation activities set out in this document.

1.2 Project description

The Southampton to London Pipeline Project will replace 90km (56 miles) of our existing aviation fuel pipeline that runs from Boorley Green in Hampshire to our West London Terminal storage facility in Hounslow via our Alton Pumping Station. The work is important as it will maintain fuel supplies to major airports in the South East. Pipelines are a safe, secure and low-impact method of transporting fuel.

We are one of the most experienced operators in the UK and are committed to working in a safe and environmentally responsible manner. The project will use tried and tested technology and installation techniques to appropriately and effectively reduce impacts and local inconvenience. We will continue to engage and consult with landowners, local communities and stakeholders to find the optimal solution.

Ultimately, we want to invest in the future, continuing to contribute to our local and national economy, helping to maintain over a thousand jobs at the UK's largest refinery in Fawley and in the surrounding community. The refinery is vital in supporting reliable supplies of fuel and other petroleum products for UK consumers.

1.3 What is Esso?

Esso Petroleum Company, Limited (Esso) is the owner of the current pipeline and will make the Development Consent Order application to install and operate the new pipeline.

CHAPTER 2

Approach to consultation

Pre-application consultation is a key requirement for applications for Development Consent Orders for major infrastructure projects. Effective pre-application consultation will lead to applications which are better developed and better understood by the public, and in which the important issues are articulated and considered as far as possible in advance of submission of the application to the Secretary of State.

We completed our first consultation in April 2018. This initial consultation helped us to select the preferred corridor. As part of this consultation, we held 11 public events where we met with more than 1,900 residents and interested members of the public. We also had just over 14,000 people visit our website and over 1,000 consultation responses were received. More detail about what respondents thought about how the consultation was run is included in the consultation report, available at www.slpproject.co.uk

We are now carrying out a second consultation seeking views on our preferred route for the replacement pipeline. This consultation is known as the 'statutory consultation' and is required as part of the preparation for our application for development consent.

The size of the project, and its potential environmental impact, means that it is within the scope of the environmental impact assessment directive, and an environmental impact assessment (EIA) is required. Esso has formally notified the Secretary of State that an environmental statement will be provided.

The statutory consultation includes consultation with the local community under section 47 of the 2008 Act (the subject of this SoCC). Statutory consultation also includes consultation with certain specified categories of person under section 42 and a requirement to publicise the proposed application under section 48 of the 2008 Act in local and national media. The obligations under section 42 and 48 are not included in this SoCC.

We are committed to carrying out a fair, inclusive and open community consultation that is informative, accessible and gives people the opportunity to find the information they need to respond effectively. By holding two consultations at key stages in the planning and design process, in addition to our ongoing engagement activity, we will ensure that input from stakeholders is considered as the route is developed and refined.

In line with the requirements of the 2008 Act, we have provided an opportunity for local authorities affected by the scheme to comment on a draft version of this document. Regard has been had to their responses in producing this final version.

Our engagement activity to date

In December 2017, we began to talk publicly about our intention to replace 90km of our 105km aviation fuel pipeline that runs from our Fawley Refinery near Southampton to our West London Terminal storage facility in Hounslow.

Between 19 March 2018 and 30 April 2018, we undertook our first consultation on a number of replacement pipeline corridor options. There were three options between Boorley Green and Alton, and three options between Alton and the West London Terminal storage facility in Hounslow. We consulted with communities, stakeholders, representative bodies and interest groups on our shortlist of possible route corridors. This consultation provided an opportunity for us to present the corridor options that we were considering and allow people to understand, consider and respond to our early proposals. The views that we received from this consultation informed our selection of a preferred corridor and then our initial working route (released in June 2018). We were then able to review and refine our plans ahead of this statutory consultation on our preferred route.

We have also continued to engage in the periods between consultations. Through forums, workshops, bilateral and one-to-one meetings we have worked with councils, environmental stakeholders and communities (via parish councils) as well as landowners. This work informed the development of the project.

CHAPTER 4

The planning process and project timeline

4.1 Nationally Significant Infrastructure Projects

The installation of a pipeline, like the one being proposed for this project, is classified as a Nationally Significant Infrastructure Project (NSIP) under the Planning Act 2008. This means that we will need to apply for development consent to construct and operate the project. The application for development consent will be submitted to, and examined by, the Planning Inspectorate on behalf of the Secretary of State for Business, Energy and Industrial Strategy. The Planning Inspectorate will provide a recommendation to the Secretary of State, who will ultimately decide whether to grant the project consent.

More information on the planning process for NSIPs can be found at:

<https://infrastructure.planninginspectorate.gov.uk/>

Before submitting an application, the 2008 Act requires developers to carry out consultation with people living in the vicinity of the land and statutory stakeholders. Early involvement of communities, local authorities and stakeholders helps an applicant to identify valuable information about potential impacts of a scheme so that potential mitigation measures can be considered and, where appropriate, built into the project before an application is considered.

By undertaking two consultations and also providing ongoing engagement, we aim to provide stakeholders with a clearly understood journey from the initial development of the proposals through to the submission of the Development Consent Order and on to installation, subject to the Development Consent Order being granted.

4.2 Project timeline

CHAPTER 5

How we will consult on the proposed application

5.1 What we are consulting on

We are seeking views on our proposals for a replacement pipeline. We are also consulting on the Preliminary Environmental Information as part of this consultation. We will make the full Preliminary Environment Information Report available and include a non technical summary of this information within the project's consultation brochure.

5.2 When we are consulting

This consultation, which will run for six weeks, starts on Thursday 6 September and closes at 23.45hrs on Friday 19 October, 2018. All feedback must be received before the closing date.

Community consultation

While the consultation will be open to anyone who wishes to take part, our promotional activity will target people who live in the vicinity of the land. The land we refer to is defined by the order limits. Order limits are proposed limits that include both the pipeline route and the temporary working areas that will be required to install the pipeline, such as access routes and working compounds. To capture those in the vicinity of the land we will apply the catchment area detailed in the table below.

The table below sets out the approaches that will be used to publicise the consultation on the proposals and Preliminary Environmental Information.

Activity	Description	Target/catchment area
Direct mail leaflet	This is a printed leaflet that will summarise the proposed scheme and Preliminary Environmental Information, consultation activities such as local exhibitions and how to take part. It will be sent by post.	As a minimum, the direct mail leaflet will target those people who live in the vicinity of the land or land parcels required by the scheme (the order limits). This area will be expanded to capture homes that are next to roads that are within the order limits. To implement this, a 50 metre postcode buffer zone around the order limits will be applied. All properties within this zone will receive a direct mail leaflet.
Newspaper adverts	Adverts in local newspapers will provide information about the consultation, where the Statement of Community Consultation can be viewed and the public exhibition dates. As per section 48 requirements, our proposals will be advertised nationally.	The local newspapers selected will provide coverage of the order limits. Given the nature of local newspapers, the catchment area will include a large proportion of communities surrounding the scheme. These local newspapers are listed in Appendix A. The national publications selected are the London Gazette and The Times.
Press release	A press release will provide information about the consultation events and how people can participate and respond to the consultation.	The press release will be issued to all local newspapers listed in Appendix A. The catchment area will include a large proportion of communities surrounding the scheme.
Website (www.slpproject.co.uk)	The website will contain all consultation material (see section 7). The web address will be included on all printed materials, including adverts.	The website is not constrained by geography and so allows anyone with access to the internet an opportunity to participate in the consultation.
E-newsletter	This is an email newsletter that will summarise the proposed scheme consultation activities, such as local exhibitions and how to take part in the consultation.	Sign-up to the e-newsletter has been available on the project website since December 2017 and will remain available before and throughout this consultation. The newsletter is available to anyone who wishes to sign up. Recipients only need to sign up once.

Activity	Description	Target/catchment area
Information deposit points	Reference copies of consultation materials (see section 7) for those who prefer to view hard copy documents, or may have limited access to the internet, will be made available locally. This will include the: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Consultation brochure (including Non-Technical Summary of the Preliminary Environmental Information) ▪ Summary leaflet ▪ Map book ▪ Statement of Community Consultation ▪ Posters 	Information deposit points will be in local venues within the host authorities' areas. These are listed in Appendix D.
Posters	Posters will be used to publicise the consultation, including the consultation events and sources of information. These posters will be another route to raise awareness amongst those not directly contacted.	Posters will be provided to information deposit points (see Appendix D) to be displayed locally. Copies of the posters will also be available on request.
Public information events	We will hold public information events during the consultation period to provide the public with an opportunity to speak directly to members of the project team.	A minimum of eight events will be held along the proposed scheme. These will be located taking account of our experience from the corridor options consultation. Should there be less than eight events due to unforeseen circumstances, such as extreme weather, additional events will be rearranged within the consultation period as appropriate, and details will be published on our website.
Elected members (County, District and Borough wards)	A letter will be sent to announce the consultation and direct elected members to the consultation materials. Where possible, this will be sent by email. If email is not available, it will be sent by post.	The letter will be sent to all elected members representing County, District and Borough wards crossed by the proposed pipeline route.
Letters to community or representative groups and local interest groups. These are listed in Appendix C	A letter will be sent to announce the consultation and direct readers to the consultation materials. This letter will also encourage these groups to disseminate information about the consultation. This will either be sent by post or by email, if known.	This will be sent to the identified: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ community and representative groups (including residents associations); and ▪ local interest groups that have been identified to us and are listed in Appendix C.
Social Media	Neutral social media content will be produced and sent to the Local Authorities listed in Appendix E. We will also make this available to any community or local interest groups upon request.	Unknown as this is dependent on other organisations, however we expect it to cover communities surrounding the scheme.
Parish Council newsletters	Neutral newsletter content will be produced and sent to local parish councils.	Unknown as this is dependent on other organisations, however we expect it to cover communities surrounding the scheme.

6.1 Hard to reach groups

From our discussions with local authorities and other stakeholders, and our own research, we have sought to identify any individuals and groups within the area of the route that may experience difficulties taking part in the consultation process. This includes young people, people with a physical disability or learning difficulties, and people whose first language is not English. We will put in place proportionate and suitable approaches to provide access to the consultation according to the needs of these groups. This may include home visits, materials in other formats or translations, bespoke presentations, information in specific publications or dissemination of information via representative organisations.

Before the start of consultation, we will contact community and representative organisations to understand any particular approaches that might be implemented as part of the consultation.

We will also contact representative organisations, at the launch of the consultation, in writing so that they are informed about the consultation and can inform their members and communities. We will also encourage these groups to respond to the consultation.

A list of the bodies that we intend to contact is at Appendix B.

6.2 What are local interest groups?

We have identified a number of local interest groups who may have particular knowledge or specialisms that could help inform the project (such as local heritage, wildlife, recreation etc.) and will be contacting them as part of this consultation.

These groups will be contacted in writing, at the start of the consultation, with information about the proposals and invited to share their views.

A list of the bodies that we intend to contact is in Appendix C.

CHAPTER 7

Consultation materials

Consultation materials will be developed to help people understand the project:

- Consultation brochure – this will provide an overview of the proposals, including maps and information on the pipeline route being put forward. The consultation brochure will incorporate a non-technical summary of the Preliminary Environmental Information. The brochure will also explain how people can take part in the consultation.
- Preliminary Environmental Information Report – this provides information on the likely significant environmental effects of the proposed development. It will be available in a digital format on the project website. Hard copies will be available on request. This will enable consultees to access environmental information to help inform their consultation response. As a preliminary report, it is not final but is provided at this stage to allow consultees to consider our current understanding of the potential impacts of the project. Further detailed information will be provided in the Environment Statement that will accompany the application for development consent.
- Response form – this questionnaire will provide an easy way for people to record and submit their feedback on the project. It is available as an online form and will be included in the consultation brochure. The response form will set out a series of questions about the proposals and the Preliminary Environmental Information to prompt feedback.
- Direct mail / Summary leaflet – this will provide an easily accessible introduction to the proposals and include a general map of the pipeline route.
- Map book – and online interactive map – this will include detailed maps of the preferred route, giving more information than the maps available in the consultation brochure.
- Project website – the project website (www.slpproject.co.uk) will be updated with the latest proposals. It will include the interactive map, online response form and all documents listed above.

All material publicising the consultation and communications will provide guidance on how to access the consultation materials and learn more about the project.

CHAPTER 8

Consultation exhibitions

Exhibitions will enable local communities and stakeholders to meet the project team, discuss our proposals and ask questions.

The exhibitions will be held at accessible public locations in, or near to, communities within the order limits.

The exhibitions will take place shortly, but not immediately, after the launch of the consultation to give people adequate time to make arrangements to attend their nearest or most convenient event.

Exhibitions will include displays showing the order limits, preferred route and area specific information, as well as background on the project. Information will also be available on how to take part in the consultation.

Exhibitions will be publicised:

- on the website
- by adverts in local newspapers
- in the direct mail leaflet

In determining the location of events for this consultation, we have considered the feedback received and attendance at exhibitions during our first consultation.

CHAPTER 9

Enquiries and further information

The following general enquiry channels will be available throughout the consultation:

- Tel: 07925 068 905
- Email: info@slpproject.co.uk
- Address: SLP Project, 1180 Eskdale Road, Winnersh, Wokingham, RG41 5TU

9.1 Requests for documents

One copy of each of the consultation documents (except the Preliminary Environmental Information Report) can be obtained free of charge by contacting the project team using the contact details provided.

A hard copy of the Preliminary Environmental Information Report can be provided, but this will incur a charge of £20 per copy for printing and delivery. Digital copies can be provided free of charge.

CHAPTER 10

Submitting feedback

The consultation is an important opportunity for local people and communities to influence how the project develops. The consultation will provide those with an interest in the proposals with the opportunity to share their views. This will help us to better understand any concerns and issues and allow us to ensure that the project is delivered in a way that considers the needs of all parties.

These views will be considered, alongside other relevant information, in refining the preferred route. All feedback must be received before the closing date specified.

Feedback can be submitted in the following ways:

- Online response form.
- Hard copy response form – a Word version is available on the project website. It is at the back of the consultation brochure which is available in hard copy at events or on request. This should be sent to the addresses set out below.
- Free text written responses. These should be sent to the addresses below.
- Email – to info@slpproject.co.uk
- Post – FREEPOST SLP PROJECT

The preferred and most efficient way to respond is online, accessed through the project website (www.slpproject.co.uk).

Those submitting their response online or by email will receive an automatic acknowledgement of their response. Written submissions will not receive an acknowledgement.

We cannot consider conversations as formal feedback. Should an individual be unable to submit feedback in writing, for example, due to literacy difficulties, we will consider this on a case-by-case basis and agree how best to meet the needs of the individual.

CHAPTER 11

How we will use feedback

When this consultation closes, an independent consultation expert will review and analyse all responses. The consultation expert will produce a report on the views shared by anyone who submits a valid response to this consultation, highlighting any issues and concerns, and additional information provided in responses. This report, along with other information, will help us to refine the preferred route.

The report will be published on our website (www.slpproject.co.uk).

We will also publish our response to the issues raised in the consultation and provide an overview of how the proposals have been changed as a result of consultation feedback and, where no change has been made, why the proposals have not been amended. We are grateful for all contributions but will not respond individually to everyone taking part in the consultation.

The full consultation report and our response to the issues raised will be included in the application for development consent. These documents will be made available at information points in the local area and on the project webpage.

CHAPTER 12

Design refinements and consultation

Following the statutory consultation, there may be changes to our proposals. If we judge that these are significant, or if new statutory consultees are affected, we will undertake a further targeted consultation to ensure that those affected by any changes to our proposals have an opportunity to comment upon them. Design refinements may be packaged into a single consultation exercise, with the notification and consultation materials tailored to the relevant recipients for each proposed change. As with all our consultations, a design refinement consultation will be promoted via our website and open to anyone who wishes to take part.

Additional promotional and notification activity will include letters or direct mail leaflets issued, as necessary, to those directly affected:

- County Councils and District Councils, via planning leads
- Parish councils, via chairpersons
- The local community
- Section 42 consultees
